TRAINMAN SOUGHT IN DREW MYSTERY

Dentist Also Wrote to Girl. Family Helping to Find Slayer.

TROY, N. Y., July 20.—With the remarkable shift in the trail of Hazel S. Drew's murderer from the mountains above Tarborton to the city of Troy, fifteen miles away, comes the aston ishing evidence that the victim was not only receiving letters from a young Troy dentist, but received notes and often met a trainman on the fast mail running between New York and Lake George. Both these men are known to the police from letters found among the girl's effects and statements of friends and relatives.

Strangely enough, Hazel's kinsfolk have broken their stubborn silence, and are now fully in accord with District Attorney O'Brien's determined and ab? sorbing endeavors to unravel the mys-

So weighty is the evidence that Hazel Drew well knew the fast mail trainman, and so extraordinarily do the known movements of the girl fit into his possible whereabouts Monday and Tuesday, July 6 and 7, that two detectives were dispatched to New York today to question the man.

The young dentist whom Hazel had visited three nights before her probable death, has explained that that visit was a business one, but that she wanted her teeth fixed at night so as not to interfere with her work, and he could not attend to it.

Hazel Drew was last seen in Troy Monday at 11:30 a. in. by Mrs. Mary Robertson, of 131 Bedford street, and her nine-year-old daughter, Nellie, in the Union Station. Every other identification of the girl in Troy, Monday and Inscredited.

Planned by Tennessee Coal and Iron Co.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 20.-The Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad Company is going to increase its economies in mining by treating with pre-servatives the timbers which are used in the mines. A plant will be erected for carrying on the work.
"To date the actual consumption of coal has been over 7,500,000,000 tons; the waste and destruction in the neighborhood of 9,000,000,000." This sentence from the address of Andrew Carnegie he Tennessee company in erecting the timber preserving plant, which will be located at some convenient shipping point near Birminhgam. The plant will be of small and inexpensive design, an the mine timbers will be treated with creosote, solutions of zinc chloride, and common sait. They will then be set in typical locations in the mines and tracts, and record will be kept of their future behavior. This will be done by darge amount of timber and money, and to promote the interest of wood pre-servation in the entire mining comnunity.

E. H. Ford, of the office of wood preservation in the Forest Service, will be in active charge of the work, with headquarters at Birmingham.

TIMBERS FOR MINES NEWMAN'S ELECTION (

Treatment for Gallery Props National Committeeman From District of Columbia Replies to Charges.

> "There can not exist with any fair minded person doubt as to the fairness, squareness, and validity of my election to a seat in the national committee as the national committeeman from the District of Columbia," said Fdwin A. Newman, today in reply to the state-ment given out Saturday by Charles W.

Mr. Newman cited that he was elected beyond all question and told instances of three distinct elections, all of which at the conference of governors at the were valid and could not be disputed. White House, points the moral of the He declared that Mr. Darr through his White House, points the moral of the conservation policy with tremendous force.

Some of the waste in coal and iron mining is caused by the collapse of galleries due to the breakage from decay of the props used to support the gallery roofs. By preservative treatment the life of the mine prop is greatly length enced, and a saving is effected in the outlay for timber, which is a constantly increasing item with the mining companies, owing to the rise in timber prices. The Forest Service will co-operate with the Tennessee company in erecting the

"From the age of three months until fifteen years old, my son Owen's life was made intolerable by eczema in its worst form. Very soon, however, the rash began to spread over his head and shoulders, and it caused him great discomfort. I took him to a doctor and tried half a dozen it caused him great discomfort. I took him to a doctor and tried half a dozen other treatments, all with the same result: no improvement at all. The disease gradually spread until nearly every part of his body was quite raw. We had to strap him down in bed, for he used to tear himself dreadfully in his sleep. The agony he went through is quite beyond words. No one thought we would rear him. The regimental doctor, a very clever man, pronounced the case hopeless; at least, he said the doctor, a very ciever man, pronounced the case hopeless; at least, he said that only hope was that he might, if he lived long enough, outgrow it to some extent. We had him in hospitals four times and he was pronounced one of the worst cases, if not the worst, ever admitted. From each he was discharged as incurable; in fact he got worse under the successive treatments. At one hospital they incased him in plaster, and this seemed to aggravate the soreness terribly. He looked so badly that no one liked to go near him and his life was a burden to him. We kept trying remedy after remedy, but we had got almost past hoping for a cure. Six months ago we purchased a set of Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Resolvent Pills and persevered with them. The result was truly marvelous and to-day he is perfectly cured, his skin and to-day he is perfectly cured, his skin not having a blemish on it anywhere.
